

Why Companies Choose FloQast Over Numeric

After speaking with over 100 companies that previously evaluated or used Numeric, one thing is clear: FloQast, built by accountants for accountants, is redefining the profession with unique AI-powered automation. From our free FloQast Certified Accountant (FCA) program to our AI Agent Builder, we empower teams to upskill their AI knowledge and automate accounting and compliance workflows with ease.

Choosing a financial close partner isn't just about automating tasks, such as variance analysis; it's about selecting a solution that scales with your organization, continuously innovates, and fits into your tech ecosystem. Here are the top three reasons why teams like yours rely on FloQast to future-proof their operations and achieve next-level efficiency.

Forward-Thinking AI Strategy and Advanced Automation

FloQast delivers platform-wide automation backed by built-in controls, ISO 42001-certified AI, and features that truly scale. As a Series E company with over $300 million in funding, we have the resources to deliver a mature, reliable AI-powered solution you can trust for years to come.

- End-to-End Automation: Automate the entire close, from reconciliations and journal entries to reporting and compliance, not just pieces of the process.
- Customizable AI Agents: We offer more than out-of-the-box features, allowing you to build your own no-code, auditable AI Agents that are tailored to your unique workflows.
- A Future-Ready Platform: FloQast thinks ahead, continuously investing in building AI features that anticipate accountants' needs and drive smarter workflows.

Previously, I'd automated smaller processes using VBA and tools like Power Automate to handle simple workflows, but FloQast AI Agents took it to a completely new level. What used to be hours of repetitive work every month is now a fully automated process, giving us the time to focus on what really matters.”
